

The Department of Psychology of Boston College invites applications for a tenure-track appointment to begin Fall 2008 in Quantitative Psychology, with quantitative broadly defined. The rank is Assistant Professor, but for an outstanding candidate, appointment at a higher rank is possible. The ideal candidate will have an interest in participating in a campus-wide network focused on applied statistics. The candidate may also have a specific substantive topic of research, which, ideally, will strengthen a research focus of the department. The Department (www.bc.edu/psychology) is committed to excellence in research and in both graduate and undergraduate teaching. Chair of the Search Committee is Prof. Hiram Brownell (hiram.brownell@bc.edu), who will be available for specific questions after September 1. For general questions and for electronic submission (preferred) of application materials, please use this address: psychoff@bc.edu. Submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement of research and teaching interests, and a sample of reprints and preprints. Materials could alternatively be sent to Quantitative Search Committee, Dept. of Psychology, 301 McGuinn Hall, Boston College, 140 Commonwealth Ave., Chestnut Hill, MA 02467. Please also have three letters of reference sent to the same address. Review of applications will begin in September and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by October 15 will receive full consideration. Boston College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.
